Dress Code

General recommendations

Anáhuac Querétaro Model of the UN is a formal event that requires students to follow strict dress code guidelines. Any infringement of the Dress Code will result in the delegate being called out; students are expected to comply with any suggestions provided by the AQMUN Staff thereafter. Failing to adhere to said recommendations will result in the delegate receiving a Warning.

For men and women, formal business attire is necessary. People should avoid the use of garish clothes and unclear color palettes. To avoid the latter, it is suggested to wear neutral, dark colors, such as navy, black, gray, beige and brown. Jewelry and accessories are allowed, as long as they are modest and do not interfere with the overall presentation of the Delegate. Shoes should be made of leather, fabric, or microfiber. The use of briefcases, discrete bags and backpacks is allowed. The hair should be clean and neat. The use of gel and wax should be moderate.

Men

It is mandatory that men wear an appropriate suit and tie with a full-sleeve shirt. It is prohibited to wear jeans, shorts, polo shirts and sweatshirts. Regarding footwear, the color of the socks should be simple and allow a smooth transition to the shoes. The belt color be the same as the shoes. The print on the fabric of the suit, tie and shirt should be no more complicated than stripes.

Women

In compliance with the color recommendations, women are allowed to wear skirts and dresses, whose the length should not be less than 6 centimeters above the knee, pants, formal blouses, and suits. Avoid the use of transparencies, low necklines, and prints. Makeup should be natural-looking and conservative, without neon colors or rhinestones. In case of using heels as footwear, they should be no higher than 10 centimeters. Excessive straps and spike heels are not considered to be appropriate. Women that desire to carry a purse are advised to choose a briefcase and avoid glittery design patterns.
